Topic description:

Possible Titles:

My personal connection with the topic:

What math do you think you can use?

What do you think you can represent with tables, graphs, diagrams or equations?

What resources have you found? (Online articles, websites, software applications, books)

What background information do you already have or will you need to find to start your exploration?

The actual exploration is the biggest part of your paper. Explain what you think you will be exploring, investigating, comparing or hope to discover or show.
